

Thy Word have I hidden In My Heart

Many of us are religious. But when we understand the Word, our walk with Christ is not about a building, but a commitment to God Himself. The time is now for everyone, young and old, to get into the Word of God. When everything else passes away, the Word will remain.

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word became flesh. The Word is noted with authority because the Word is God Himself. When He said, “let there be,” He spoke out of His very being.

The proclamation of the Word of God is essential in these days of turmoil and strife. The Word is needed in conflict against the enemy. The Word will not come back void if you speak it. It cannot fail because it is God Himself.

Romans 6:1-4

The Word activates our faith, faith to believe the Word is true. God’s Word is not mortal man’s word, but is the power of Himself. We must live according to His Word.

John 11:11, 25, 33, 38-44

The spoken Word is the manifestation of God Himself, akin to the theophany of Jesus in a body of flesh in John 1:14. It is a noun that activates the presence of God. All that God has for you is already in the created order—just act it out.

Jesus said to Mary and Martha, “I am the resurrection”—the same “I am” power that God spoke to Moses.

Jesus wept, allowing his human emotion to come forth, showing that He identified with their pain and cared for them.

Jesus thanked God first—be thankful. Then He spoke, “Lazarus, come out!” and it happened. This is the power of God’s Word!

In order to receive all that God has for you, you must walk in the understanding of the Word of God. Walk with God. Represent Jesus Christ, and know that He’s real.

God places people in specific places to give out, as Joseph in Egypt. The world should be looking to us to find out what they should do. When you walk according to His Word, you can speak it and it is so.
